PART-III

PLAN OUTLAY 2015-2016

Plan outlay for 2015-16 reflects a major compositional shift in the expenditure estimates. These changes are on account of long standing demand of the States for greater devolution and greater flexibility in design of Centrally Sponsored Schemes. In the spirit of “Cooperative federalism”, Government has accepted the recommendation of the Fourteenth Finance Commission (FFC) and will be devolving 42% of the divisible pool of Union Taxes. This will be much higher than the 32% devolved to States in 2014-15 as per the Thirteenth Finance Commission Award.

This changed fiscal reality implies recalibration of the manner in which Plan assistance is extended to States with greater focus on unconditional transfers. Reduction in Central assistance to State Plans is a reflection of this change in fiscal federal fiscal relations. It may however be noted that despite reduction in Central assistance to State Plan in respect of most programmes, overall outlay for the programme will remain unchanged with States pooling resources from their enhanced devolution.

Keeping in view commitment of the Government towards socially disadvantaged and poor, it has been decided to keep Centre's contribution to these sectors unchanged. There are certain other programmes, which are in the nature of Constitutional / Legal obligations of Union, such as MGNREGA or privileges available to Hon'ble Member of Parliament's to serve their constituents. Allocation of these programmes have been fully provided for from Union's resources.

In respect of other programme Centre : State funding pattern will be suitably modified in view of the larger devolution of tax resources to States as per the recommendations of the FFC. Subsequent to the changed funding pattern, overall expenditure on such programmes will not decrease.

Only few programmes are delinked from support of Union Government. States may decide to continue (or not) with these programmes out of their increased resources resulting from the recommendation of FFC.

Details of the programme referred to above are at Annexure's 8, 8A and 8B.

The Government further faces the challenge of enhancing Public investment in the economy. Plan outlay for 2015-16 sets out the path for meeting this challenge. Public investment targets in FY 2015-16 are planned to be achieved from enhanced budgetary support to Central Plan and through increase in Resources of Public enterprises. It is estimated that in FY 2015-16, Central Plan outlay (including resources of Public enterprises) will be higher by nearly 35.5% over RE 2014-15. Details are in table below:
